

What Amgen Looks for in a Supplier:

Quality	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Amgen sets high standards of performance for itself and the products we manufacture. We expect the same from our suppliers.
Cost Savings	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> We value suppliers who continually look for ways to help us lower our cost through savings without impact to quality, safety, schedule or other requirements.
Innovation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> We look for suppliers who value and engage in continuous improvement and who provide products and services more efficiently.
Technology	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> We look for suppliers who use technology to enhance their offerings and delivery of products and services.

How to Register with Amgen:

Business Size and Classification	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Amgen values doing business with small and/or diverse businesses. Please determine whether your company qualifies as a small business concern by visiting the U.S. Small Business Administration website/ Table of Small Business Size Standards. (Resources in page 2)
DUNS Number	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Obtain your company DUNS Number (unique nine digit identification number) free of charge. (Resources in page 2)
Register with Amgen	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> To register with Amgen, go to http://www.amgen.com/partners/suppliers.html Once in the Supplier Information Portal, click the “Potential Supplier Registration” tab and follow the instructions.

Next Steps After Registering:

Upon completion of your Potential Supplier Information Profile	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Registration records will be made available to sourcing managers for assessment and consideration
---	---

Amgen's Supplier Diversity (SD) Program:

What is Supplier Diversity?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Supplier diversity is a proactive business process that seeks to provide maximum practicable opportunities for small and/or diverse businesses to participate in sourcing opportunities.
Mission	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Amgen has established a Supplier Diversity Program with the mission to provide a framework for ensuring that small and/or diverse businesses are provided maximum practicable opportunities to participate in the supply of goods and/or services to Amgen. Amgen is committed to identifying and developing small and/or diverse businesses that meet Amgen's requirements.
Objective	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Use of a small and/or diverse supplier base which is reflective of the marketplace Encourage economic development and competition Be a leader in good corporate citizenship.
Who Manages Amgen's Supplier Diversity Program?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Amgen's Supplier Diversity Liaison Officer (SDLO) oversees the success of the program Amgen's SDLO is an advocate to small and/or diverse businesses for doing business with Amgen and works to match these suppliers with the appropriate sourcing professional(s) within Amgen.

Make Use of Resources: Helpful Websites

U.S. Small Business Administration	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The SBA provides financial, technical and management assistance to help Americans start, run, and grow their business. U.S. Small Business Administration: www.sba.gov
D-U-N-S® Number	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The D-U-N-S® Number is required to register your company with Amgen. To request your D-U-N-S® Number visit: http://fedgov.dnb.com/webform
Other Resources	Other resources for diverse businesses: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Diversity Alliance for Science (DA4S): www.diversityallianceforscience.com National Minority Supplier Development Council (NMSDC): www.nmsdc.org Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC): www.wbenc.org Veteran and Military Business Owners Association (VAMBOA): www.vamboa.org National Veteran-Owned Business Association (NaVOBA): www.navoba.com Supplier Connection: www.supplier-connection.net